PURPOSE

The Declaration of Protective Covenants establishes the basic authority for maintaining the quality of design within the Community. The guidelines allow the Architectural Control Committee (also known as the Architectural Review Committee) to adopt architectural control standards subject to the confirmation of the Board. The covenants define the general scope and nature of the ACC's responsibility in dealing with specific situations and request.

The accompanying guidelines have been adopted by the Board to assist homeowners in submitting their application, requesting any exterior alterations, additions or improvements to their home and property.

FUNCTION

- A. The role of the Association, of which each resident is a member, is not only to own and maintain the common areas, but also to protect everyone's investment while promoting harmony and shared interests throughout the community.
- B. Architectural Control Committee (ACC). The ACC performs its task of ensuring and maintaining aesthetic quality of the exterior appearance of properties by establishing and monitoring the architectural review process, and conducting periodic inspections of properties. The ACC ensures that proposed exterior alterations adhere to the objectives set forth in the Covenant. This involves regular systematic review of all applications for exterior alterations submitted by residents.
- C. Board of Directors. The Board reviews all appeals to ensure that the ACC followed proper application review procedures, ensures the parties concerned were afforded a fair decision, and confirms that the decision rendered has a rational basis.
- D. Association Manager. The Association Manager has primary and day-to-day responsibility for the operation and maintenance of the homeowners association.

ITEMS REQUIRING APPROVAL

- A. The Declaration of Protective Covenants generally defines those items requiring approval of the ACC.
- B. The Declaration of Protective Covenants mandates that any alterations, additions or improvements, whether permanent or temporary, to the exterior appearance of one's property requires prior written approval of the ACC, and full compliance with guidelines. All applications are reviewed on an individual basis.

MODIFICATION REQUEST FORM

- A. General. Unless otherwise stated in these Guidelines, an application must be submitted for every exterior change, using the Modification Request Form that can be attained from the Association Manager. The form must include estimated start and completion dates; and details such as dimensions, color, and material of all associated exterior alterations. A drawing of the exterior alterations should be attached to the approval Form. When required by the local government, permits must be obtained prior to beginning work and a copy of the permit application must be provided with the Modification Request submittal. No project may be commenced prior to ACC written approval.
- B. Site Plan. A Site Plan is a scale drawing of the Lot which shows the exact dimensions of the property, adjacent properties if applicable and all proposed improvements on the Lot described in the application.
- C. Elevation View. An elevation view is a drawing of the structure as seen from the front of the structure. (Pictures of similar structures or a brochure may be substituted for certain structures, i.e. fences, doors, decks.

APPLICATION REVIEW PROCEDURES

- A. Filing. The ACC Modification Request Form, including drawings or site plan and a copy of permit applications, if applicable, must be submitted to the Association Manager for review and approval or denial.
- B. Review Process. After receiving an application, the Association Manager will submit the application to the ACC if the application is complete. The applicant must resubmit a complete application. The ACC will obtain a decision from the Board. The Association Manager will then issue a notice to the applicant indicating the approval or denial of the application.
- C. If completion of an approved project has not commenced within 30 days after approval and/or estimated start date, the approval will be null and void and a new application will have to be submitted. If an approved project is not completed by the estimated completion date, a homeowner should submit the revised completion date in writing to the Association Manager.
- D. Although many decisions are rendered within a few days applicants must allow 30 days for the ACC to review and render a decision regarding any Modification Request.

APPEALS PROCEDURES

- A. If an application is denied, the homeowner may request an appeal of the decision to the Board in writing within 14 business days of receipt of the denial. The Board's decision will be final.

ACC REVIEW CRITERIA

- A. The ACC evaluates all submissions on the individual merits of the application for conformity with the ACC Guidelines that are established herein.
- B. The following criteria represent the general standards:
 - 1. Design Compatibility. The proposed improvements must be compatible with the architectural characteristics of the applicant's house, adjacent houses, and the neighborhood setting. Compatibility is defined as, but not limited to, similarity in architectural style, quality of workmanship, similar use of materials, color and construction details.
 - 2. Location and Impact on Neighbors. The proposed alteration should relate favorably to the landscape, the existing structure of the community and following the overall architectural guidelines of the community.
